

Consolidation of broadcast ownership (through deregulation) will have a negative impact on diversity of points of view and of culture. And the public debate on this process has not been nearly extensive enough.